

Thank You – INHWE Online 2026

THANK YOU

As we close INHWE Online 2026, I would like to take a moment to reflect on what has been a truly memorable experience. First and foremost, the quality of the sessions has been outstanding. We have heard from presenters across different countries and healthcare professions, sharing perspectives that were both interprofessional and international in nature. This breadth of insight has reinforced the value of learning across disciplines and borders. Equally important has been the spirit of the event itself. Throughout the programme, there has been a strong sense of support, encouragement, and openness. Delegates have connected, shared knowledge, exchanged ideas, and built networks in a way that reflects the very best of our global community. A sense of belonging and collaboration has been clear and it is deeply encouraging.

I would like to extend a huge thank you to all our presenters and to every delegate who contributed their time, energy, and expertise. Your engagement is what brought this event to life. A very special thank you must also go to our session chairs, whose hard work, preparation, and leadership ensured that sessions ran smoothly and discussions were rich, focused, and inclusive. I would also like to highlight two exciting upcoming opportunities to continue these conversations and to meet in person. INHWE will be hosting our next Congress in Dublin in 2026, and we are also pleased to be organising the ATBH XII conference in Cyprus in 2027. We warmly encourage you to take part in these events over the next 18 months and continue building on the connections and learning that began at last week.

Thank you once again for being part of this online event, for the generosity with which you shared your knowledge and for the enthusiasm you brought to our global community. We look forward to welcoming you again very soon.
