SimPRENA Newsletter

Hello again INHWE Members! The third issue of the SimPRENA newsletter highlights the “Train the Trainers” course held in May 2025 in Larnaca, Cyprus, where educators from six partner organizations engaged in hands-on training and planning for upcoming pilot activities aimed at improving healthcare professionals' ability to manage aggression and violence. The event featured demonstrations of teaching materials and the project's online platform, and fostered teamwork and strategy for local implementation and translation. The newsletter also outlines progress on Work Package 4, which includes creating and digitizing training content, developing infographics, and preparing for pilot sessions that will evaluate the effectiveness of these educational tools.
