

Join H-Pass as a Stakeholder

Hello again INHWE Members! We'd like to invite you to become a stakeholder in our newly initiated H-Pass project. H-PASS, which stands for "Health Professionals' and the 'DigitAl team' Skills advancement," is a groundbreaking initiative aimed at supporting organisations in overcoming challenges stemming from disparities or deficiencies in digital skills within healthcare. The project recognises the vital perspectives of various stakeholders and seeks their engagement at different phases of project development. The consortium aims to gather insights from diverse individuals regarding digital and transversal skills gaps and requirements. This inclusive collaboration with stakeholders will greatly contribute to the formulation of the H-PASS training program, primarily directed towards clinical staff.

If you're interested in being an integral part of this project as a stakeholder, we'd love your involvement. Aligned with INHWE's mission, we firmly believe that your knowledge and input are instrumental in achieving our project's objectives.

Should you wish to participate as a stakeholder, kindly spare just 2 minutes to complete a brief questionnaire.

Become a Stakeholder

We sincerely appreciate your time and consideration in contributing to the H-PASS project. For any queries or further information, please don't hesitate to contact us.

David Smith

Director

