ATBH Call for Abstracts: Closing Today

Hello again INHWE Members! The ATBH XII Call for Abstracts closes TODAY, 19th October 2026. Taking place in Nicosia, Cyprus from 14th to 18th June 2027, ATBH XII will bring together the global interprofessional education and collaborative practice community under the theme “Collaborative Virtues: Building Resilient Teams Through Shared Values.” Abstracts are welcomed from educators, researchers, practitioners, students, service users and policy leaders across multiple presentation options. Alongside a high-quality scientific programme, the event will offer excellent value with sessions, workshops, keynote talks, the pre-conference, networking, refreshments, lunch and evening receptions included, as well as a varied social programme designed to create memorable opportunities for connection and collaboration. If you are thinking of submitting, now is the time!
