Introducing the Sim-PRENA Project!

Hello again INHWE Members! We're thrilled to announce our participation in the Sim-PRENA project, aimed at revolutionizing healthcare education. Alongside five esteemed partners, we're tackling the critical need of preparing healthcare students to handle violence in healthcare settings with confidence.

Why Sim-PRENA?

Violence towards medical staff jeopardizes patient and staff safety. Through simulation-based training, we're bridging the gap between theory and practice, empowering students with essential skills.

What to Expect?

Over 24 months (December 2023 – December 2025), we'll roll out tailored simulation activities to boost students' self-confidence. Our goal is to equip learners and educators with tools to navigate healthcare complexities confidently.

How Will It Work?

We'll develop scenarios and materials accessible via an e-learning platform, conduct train-the-trainer courses, and refine our approach through feedback.

Stay Tuned for More!

After our kick-off meeting in Prague (7-8 March 2024), we'll share more details. For further info keep an eye on our website in the coming weeks.
