

OASES Update & Thank You

Hello again INHWE Members! We would like to extend our sincere gratitude to those of you who played a crucial role in contributing to the research outputs of the OASES project. Over the past months, we conducted several rounds of questionnaires, specifically targeted at healthcare stakeholders in Cyprus, to assess the existence of medical deserts in the region. Following constructive discussions and achieving consensus, we organized a face-to-face meeting to delve deeper into this vital topic. The meeting aimed to analyse the outcomes of the consensus-building exercise, identify potential factors contributing to desertification, and explore viable solutions

This consensus-building exercise marked a significant milestone in the pilot studies of the OASES project, an initiative funded by the European Union. The primary objective of the OASES project is to serve as a valuable knowledge resource on European medical deserts, empowering health authorities in EU Member States to reform their healthcare systems comprehensively. By addressing the critical aspects of medical desertification, we aim to overcome the challenges posed by limited access to healthcare services. Regarding our recent activities, we are committed to producing a comprehensive report that will present the findings from all the pilot studies conducted. For further information about the project's progress and deliverables, we invite you to visit the following link: <https://oasesproject.eu/results/>.

Thank you for your continued support and participation in the OASES project. Together, we can make a meaningful impact on addressing medical deserts and advancing healthcare accessibility for all.
