

International Network for Health Workforce Education

Newsletter

ECHOES Final Conference

---

Hello again INHWE Members! As you know we are part of the ECHOES Project which is building a Europe-wide network to support Interprofessional Education and Practice. By linking experienced academics and practitioners with universities, ECHOES helps break down barriers between disciplines and supports shared learning, research, and new education approaches. Through the ECHOES platform, experts can share knowledge, connect with partners, and help ensure that all healthcare students can learn how to work well in collaborative teams no matter where they study.

This work will come together at the ECHOES Final Conference, which will be part of the 6th International Congress of Health Workforce Education and Research, Dublin 2026 event. We hope that by including the ECHOES project into our international, interprofessional and multi stakeholder event we will bring European expertise into a global conversation helping to build stronger connections, shared ideas and practical action for the future of collaborative healthcare education.

The Call for Abstracts for Dublin 2026 is open until 3rd March 2026.

Find Out More

David Smith

Director

Visit Our Website