Key Dates: INHWE Online 2025

Hello again INHWE Members! We've updated our key dates (including abstract submission) for the 3rd International Online Conference of Health Workforce Education as we prepare for the upcoming event from Wednesday 8th to Friday 10th January 2025. Our international online conference, aimed at advancing interdisciplinary collaboration and the latest practices in health workforce training and development, now has a submission deadline set for Monday 18th November 2024. Notifications of abstract selection will be provided by the 25th November 2024, and the registration deadline for presenters has been moved to 16th December 2024. The conference remains free to attend with a "PWYW" model, ensuring accessibility for all participants. We hope to see you online in January!
