International Congress of Health Education and Research 2024

We are very pleased to announce that the 4th International Congress of Health Workforce Education and Research will take place in Barcelona, Spain from Wednesday 26th June to Thursday 27 June 2024. The event, postponed in 2020, is the 4th iteration of our main conference which we hold once a year and is the prime meeting place for international health workforce educators, researchers and policy makers. This two-day event is held to promote interdisciplinary co-operation and critical understanding of the latest research in the field of health workforce education, training and development.

We would like to invite potential participants to submit proposals for a Digital Poster Presentation on the overall congress theme or any topic related to our many Working Group themes. We will also accept digital poster proposals submitted for topics that should be taught in an interprofessional way, such as communication and leadership. If you have any doubt about your abstract, please contact INHWE Director, David Smith at david.smith@inhwe.org.

Congress Theme: Building Collaborative Competencies

Building collaborative competencies in healthcare education is crucial as it prepares professionals to effectively work in interprofessional teams, ensuring seamless coordination and patient-centered care. Collaborative competencies encompass skills such as effective communication, active listening, mutual respect, shared decision-making, and an understanding of diverse roles within healthcare disciplines. By developing these competencies, healthcare professionals can break down silos, enhance interdisciplinary collaboration, and improve patient outcomes. This collaborative approach allows for holistic patient care, leveraging the expertise of multiple disciplines to address complex health needs. It also improves the efficiency of healthcare delivery by streamlining workflows, facilitating timely communication, and ensuring coordinated interventions across different care settings. Ultimately, building collaborative competencies equips healthcare professionals to navigate the healthcare system effectively and deliver high-quality, patient-centered care.

Practical Information

About the Submission of Digital Posters

- Submit your proposal online via the dedicated portal.
- Submissions and presentations must be in English.
- For submissions from multiple authors all Congress communication will be sent to the person listed as a primary contact on the submission system. The primary contact will be expected to share all event information with their co-presenters.
- Any changes to the presenter(s) or any other contact details must be communicated directly to the INHWE staff.
- Authors can edit their proposals until the submission deadline by e-mailing us at matteo.vezzosi@inhwe.org. No further changes will be accepted after this date.

About the Registration for the Congress

- When submissions are accepted, all participants must confirm their involvement by registering through paying the Congress fee.
- All presenters who attend the Congress are expected to register and pay all registration, travel and accommodation costs.

About the Digital Poster

- The Digital Poster will be provided to all delegates via a QR code
- The Digital Poster will be displayed on a large screen along with other posters (rolling)
- A dedicated area is assigned for Digital Poster Presentation and will be available for all networking events (coffee, lunch, reception) for both days.
- A maximum of 20 digital poster presentations will be accepted

Submission Categories

The International Network for Health Workforce Education invites authors to submit digital poster proposals on any topic related to healthcare education and training. You can submit a “classic” academic abstract (including introduction, methods, discussion and conclusion) by selecting “Classic Abstract” on the submission system.

Alternatively, you can submit a “Short Paper”. This type of submission allows the author(s) more flexibility to deviate from the “Classic” abstract, for example, it may be used by a delegate who wishes to submit a presentation that focuses on policy changes or opinion pieces. Both documents will go through the same review process.

Submission System

When submitting a digital poster online via the official Submission System you will be asked to complete and submit a dedicated submission form. The form contains the following information:
